PART I--PUBLICATIONS

Section A--Functional (F) Requirements

1. New publications not previously announced. When announced, customers without electronic connectivity, submit requirements to their CARs. In turn, CARs will consolidate requirements and forward to CPDC to arrive by 1 May 99. Submit requirements for X-Distribution publications directly to the OPR. Publications will be available for downloading from our Web Pages (above), when they are listed in Part I, Section D – Publications Distributed. AIAMD1526, 390th Intelligence Squadron. The 390 IS is an operational component of the Air Intelligence Agency, executing information operations that shape the battlespace. The squadron serves as a combat force multiplier by providing vital information to theater, tactical, and national decision-makers. It provides critical support to military operations and national decision-makers whenever required. OPR: HQ AIA/XRMO. AIAMD1543, 485th Intelligence Squadron. The 485 IS is an operational component of the 26th Intelligence Group and integrates information operations resources into theater level programs and ensures information supremacy for national and allied customers. The 485 IS is embedded in the war-fighting team; Air Intelligence Agency, North Atlantic Treaty Organization, United States Air Forces Europe, and National Security Agency providing national-level decision makers a clear information battle-space picture. OPR: HQ AIA/XRMO.

AIAMD1544, 26th Intelligence Support Squadron, 692nd Intelligence Support Squadron, and 67th Intelligence Support Flight. These units are integral parts of the warfighting team, functioning as the staff for their respective group, and readying and sustaining information operations forces for employment by their respective group subordinate units. OPR: HQ AIA/XRMO.

OPR: 690 CSS/ADW (CPDC) (Mr. Olivera)
DIST: F

AIAMD1551, 97th Intelligence Squadron. The 97 IS conducts airborne reconnaissance to satisfy customer intelligence needs by providing quality training, support, and services. This organization is an intelligence squadron subordinate to the 67th Intelligence Group, 67th Intelligence Wing, and the Air Intelligence Agency. OPR: HQ AIA/XRMO. AIAMD1552, 694th Intelligence Group. The 694 IG is an operational component of AIA, executing decisive information operations for tactical, theater, and national operations. The group is tailored to specific mission areas and theaters of operation and it consists of worldwide teams of information professionals, securing and maintaining information superiority for the nation. OPR: HQ AIA/XRMO.

AIAI33-116, HQ AIA Networks Infrastructure and Computer Systems Management. This instruction provides standard processes and procedures and sets forth responsibilities for effective management and control of HQ AIA networks, systems, and architectures. Its intent is to ensure standardized, interoperable, secure, network systems capable of effective support to AIA's information operations mission. It applies to HQ AIA directorates and major staff offices, the 690 IOG, 67 IW, and other AIA units not covered under a service level agreement. It does not apply to AIA-gained Air National Guard or Air Force Reserve units. OPR: 690 CSS/IPM.

AIAI36-2813, Sensor Chaplain Award. This instruction implements AFD 36-28, Awards and Decorations. It establishes the procedures and guidelines for the Air Intelligence Agency Sensor Chaplain Award program. It explains the responsibilities, procedures and criteria for nominating and selecting chaplains as nominees for the company grade and field grade Sensor Chaplain Award. This instruction applies to major staff offices, wing, centers, groups, and AIA units worldwide. It does not apply to AIA-gained Guard or Reserve units, 694 IG, and 451 IS units. OPR: HQ AIA/HC.
